SUITCASE STOLEN.

John Owsley Reid and Wife Have Experience in Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. John Owsley Reid have returned from Indianapolis where Mr. Reid went to confer with a large automobile manufacturer from whom he has an offer to go on the road as representative. On their way thither, their suitcase was stolen. The Courier-Journal contained this dispatch of the affair:

A thief who knew not and cared not that his victims were newly wedded, and perhaps careless of mundane things, made away with the suitcase and traveling bags of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Reid, of Stanford, Ky., who stopped on their honeymoon in Indianapolis last night. Then despite the fact that her trousseau was gone, Mrs. Reid proved herself able to look on the bright side and voted to continue the trip, anyway.

"We can get what clothes we need as we go along," said Mr. Reid, and Mrs. Reid agreed. The young couple were en route to Detroit, and between trains stopped here. They left their baggage beside a seat in the waiting room and walked about the station for five minutes. When they returned, their effects were missing.

There is a cure for the most distressing of the country than any other disease put to rest, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a cure, many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it a constitutional disease, and therefore require constitutional treatment. FOLEY'S CATARRH CURE, manufactured by F. J. Cheney 2 Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 5 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer you liquid guaranty for any case. It fails to cure, send for circular and testimonials.

A recent Milledgeville letter to the I. J. was made to say that the Moreland school opened with Miss Fannie Spears as teacher. This bustling little city has a school that employs two teachers. Rev. F. D. Palmer is principal of the school this year and Miss Spears his assistant. The omission of a line of type caused the mistake. The school opened with a good attendance and is doing nice work.
